

California State Parks November Public Workshops Review of the Draft “Central Valley Vision Implementation Plan”

In 2003, California State Parks began work on a long-term Central Valley Vision, to develop a strategic plan for State Parks’ expansion in the Central Valley. The result was the January 2007 Central Valley Vision Report.

As a next step in this strategy, and in response to the direction from the Legislature (AB 1426), we have prepared the Draft Central Valley Vision Implementation Plan, available at www.parks.ca.gov/?page_id=23483.

The Central Valley Implementation Plan focuses on helping to meet the public’s recreation needs in the Central Valley. It outlines specific initiatives to build economic and volunteer partnerships, acquire new park lands and develop new and improved recreation opportunities.

We want to hear from you! We would appreciate and value your feedback and comments on this Draft Central Valley Vision Implementation Plan by attending one of our workshops listed below, or you can email your comments to us at centralvalleyvision@parks.ca.gov.
